Armonia Langhe Bianco 2020

The Armonia Bianco bottling from Enrico Nada is made from a blend of approximately fifty-five percent sauvignon blanc, thirty-five percent arneis and ten percent vermentino. The wine is raised entirely in stainless steel and does not go through malolactic fermentation. The 2020 version delivers a deep and vibrant bouquet of tart pear, green olive, stony soil tones, lime peel and a topnote of dried flowers. On the palate the wine is bright, full-bodied, focused and complex, with a good core, fine soil undertow, bouncy acids and fine balance and grip on the classy finish. This is very tasty and quite unique in its varietal composition. 2022-2027.
