

DOMAINE DE LA FOLIE RULLY 1ER CRU CLOS DU CHAIGNE

Folie sits on the crown of the Montagne de la Folie, occupying the northernmost zone of the Rully appellation and its highest elevations. Moreover, all but one of the domaine's vineyards are monopoles, which is all but unheard of along the Côte. It has been in Clémence Durelle's family for three centuries and since 2010, when she assumed the reins, completely reinvigorated.

VINEYARD

- Site: An enclosed vineyard that faces due east high up on a steep slope, overlooking an ancient pilgrimage Camino route to Cluny and thence to Santiago.
- Soil: Clay-limestone.
- Vines: Eight acres of vines planted in 1971. No herbicides or pesticides.
- Varieties: Chardonnay.

CELLAR

- Vinification & Aging: Manual harvest in small cases. Long, slow pressing and no SO₂ additions prior to vinification. Depending on the year, the elevage runs for roughly 15 months; about half the wine is raised in barrel (~20% new) and half in steel.
- Production: 4,400 six-pack cases.
- Profile: Decidedly classical with fresh fruit and clear minerality. Its elevation makes for a racy, long wine.
