Ryan Deovlet has garnered a reputation as a star exemplifying the best of the new breed of California winemakers. He's dialed back on new oak and extractions, he's comfortable being among the first to start the harvest, and he concentrates on the vineyards in the Santa Rita Hills to learn their ways.

VINEYARD

- Site: La Encantada Vineyard in the Santa Rita Hills, a unique coast range that runs east-west rather than parallelling the coast and so is directly open to the Pacific's cooling influences. This vineyard is on the south side of the Santa Rita Hills, seven miles from the Pacific Ocean with an elevation between 200 and 750 feet.
- Soil: Loamy clay.
- Vines: From one block at a lower, shaded elevation. Hand harvested.
- Varieties: Pinot Blanc.

CELLAR

- Vinification & Aging: Aged in a combination of 500L sandstone amphora, neutral 400L French oak, and stainless steel for about 10 months.
- Profile: Delicate, elegant, and energetic with a racy long finish. Beautiful chalky minerality.
