

SER CEDAR LANE VINEYARD VERMENTINO

Nicole Walsh was Randall Grahm's general manager at Popelouchum, where Grahm undertook an ambitious 10,000 vines project to discover a true American match of vine and site; she was also a winemaker at Bonny Doon. In 2012 she began making her own wine under the Ser label. Ser, to be in Spanish, is her way of showcasing varietals and vineyard sources for which she has an affinity. Each of the vineyards is influenced by the Pacific—Nicole is an avid surfer and hence the unifying image of the wave on her label.
