Bourgueil “Chevalerie” 2019

With some vines dating back to 1893, there's a rich coulis-like fruit freshness to this 2019 Chevalerie. It's silken and suave, caressing the palate but not opulent, allowing the drinker to enjoy its elegance as well as ripeness. This is the current vintage and it's starting to drink well. The tannins are succulent, fine and powdery in texture. It is long, dark and broody with plum, dark fruits and a hint of mushroom-like tertiary character on the lingering finish.
