Domaine de la Folie
Côte Châlonnaise

Rully 1er Cru Clos du Chaigne 2024

The nose is expressive with waves of spring florals, hay and herbal tea. The supple palate is gently lifted by buoyant acidity. Very gastronomic! These vines were planted in the 1970s. Alcohol 13.00%. Drink from 2026-2030.

4 out of 5 stars/ 91 pts– Jasper Morris, Inside Burgundy, April 2026

The 2024 Rully Clos du Chaigne 1er Cru Blanc comes from vines with an east orientation and is raised 60% in barrel (20% new and mainly Chassin cooperage) and 40% in stainless steel vat. This has quite a pithy bouquet with grapefruit, quince and leesy scents coming through with time. The palate is well balanced with a harmonious entry, fine acidity and clean crisp fruit with subtle tropical notes towards the refined finish. Classy.

90 pts – Neal Martin, Vinous Media, January 2026

Rully 1er Cru Clos St. Jacques 2024

Lovely on the nose with ripples of freshly-sliced apples, toast and crushed stones, the mouth-filling palate delivers good intensity. The 20 percent new wood is subtle and integrated. These vines are 100-plus years old and sit in so little soil that you see the vines swaying in strong winds. Alcohol 13.00%. Drink from 2026-2031.

4 out of 5 stars/ 92 pts– Jasper Morris, Inside Burgundy, April 2026

The 2024 Rully Clos St. Jacques 1er Cru, raised entirely in barrel, clearly has the most complexity and intensity on the nose with yellow plum, lemon verbena and light crushed white flowers scents. Very well defined. The palate is well balanced with a very harmonious entry, nicely pitched acidity, clean and pure with hints of peach and apricot towards the finish. Great potential.

91 pts – Neal Martin, Vinous Media, January 2026

Rully Clos de Bellecroix 2024

Pretty, pale ruby in color, this begins with a shy nose of drying rose petals. The palate offers red currants and raspberries. The tannins are very supple—perhaps too light. This almost feels rosé like, though it is tasty. Clémence explains that they prefer maceration and remontage to infusion, but they don't try to extract what isn't there—especially in a lighter vintage. Alcohol 13.00%. Drink from 2026-2029.

3 out of 5 stars/ 88 pts– Jasper Morris, Inside Burgundy, April 2026

The 2024 Rully Clos de Bellecroix has a light and slightly earthy bouquet and here there is a slight shortfall of red fruit, but it is clean. The palate is well balanced with pretty red cherry and strawberry fruit, certainly much more delicate with an easy-going finish. Slips down the throat with ease.

87 pts- Neal Martin, Vinous Media, January 2026

Rully Clos de Bellecroix Cuvée Marey 2024

Showing a touch more color depth than the basic Clos de Bellecroix cuvée, this has more flavor depth, too. Clemence said, "We work these vines like we would a Premier Cru." Ample forest berry flavors combine with a hint of dry earth on the palate before gliding into a gently fading finish. The duo of rounded tannins and fresh acidity delivers solid balance. This is named for Clémence's great-great-grandfather, who planted the first vines in the Clos St. Jacques. Alcohol 13.00%. Drink from 2026-2030.

3 out of 5 stars/ 89 pts– Jasper Morris, Inside Burgundy, April 2026

The 2024 Rully Clos de Bellecroix Cuvée Marey comes from the 1.6-hectare parcel that faces east and is aged with 25% new oak barrel. This has fine lift on the nose: red cherries, wild strawberry and light rose petal scents that blossom in the glass. The palate is medium-bodied with rounded tannins, soft in texture, transparent with a slight tart finish. This will be difficult, nigh impossible to resist in its youth.

89 pts- Neal Martin, Vinous Media, January 2026

Rully Clos La Folie 2024

Crunchy and perky, this has a lovely mid-palate textures. Flavors of yellow plums, yellow apple skins and sea salt mesh on the palate. Like the Aligoté, these vines look northeast. Alcohol 13.00%. Drink from 2026-2029.

4 out of 5 stars/ 90 pts– Jasper Morris, Inside Burgundy, April 2026

The 2024 Rully Clos la Folie Blanc is aged in used barrels and tank. It has pretty green apple and fresh pear scents on the fresh nose. Fine delineation, though not powerful. The palate is balanced with a rounded entry, surprising fatness on the mid-palate and here I am just seeking a little more acidic bite on the finish.

87 pts- Neal Martin, Vinous Media, January 2026

Bourgogne Aligoté 2024

Impressively smooth on the attack, there is a lovely core of creaminess on the palate. Lilting acidity offers elegant balance. Classic Aligoté scents of cool citrus, almonds and freshly-cut herbs linger into the gentle finish. This shows very nice balance for a north-northeast facing vineyard in such a chilly vintage. Alcohol 12.00%. Drink from 2026-2028.

4 out of 5 stars/ 89 pts– Jasper Morris, Inside Burgundy, April 2026

The vines that constitute the 2024 Bourgogne Aligoté are Aligoté d'Orée, planted a century ago, and the winemaking operandi here is to work the lees. It has a light bouquet that doesn't quite get both hands on the grape variety as I would like. The palate is better with a smooth texture, almost creamy, touches of pear and quince, gentle and understated towards the finish. It grows on you. Drink over four or five years.

88 pts- Neal Martin, Vinous Media, January 2026